

Student Workload

This line chart is the main feature for viewing student workload.

The line represents the average assignments each day per student. This value is a product of each class's number of assignments and it's corresponding enrollment numbers. This ensures the value adjusts for class size.

Next